

To implement transliteration we advise to use the free website <http://www.translit.ru>. In the revealing options list you choose either the default translit.ru option, or the option of U.S. State Department system (BSI). Insert the list of references in Russian, click on "in transliteration" and you will receive the transliterated list of references. Copy the result and use it for further work.

Article transliteration:

1. Well, let's transliterate the article description: Vasilyev, V.V. Unknown Yum//philosophy Questions. – 2014. – No. 1. – Page 127-139.
2. We get: Vasil'ev, V.V. Neizvestnyj Jum // Voprosy filosofii. – 2014. – № 1. – S. 127-139.
3. As names of foreign authors in the list of references after writing in Cyrillics are necessarily indicated either in the original writing (if an initial name is in Latin) or in common Latin transcription (for example, names of Japanese authors), we replace Jum with Hume.
4. Vasil'ev V.V. Neizvestnyj Hume, Voprosy filosofii, 2014, No. 1, pp. 127-139. Remove special dividing signs (" ", "/", ".") between fields and replace them with commas, change "№" on "No." and the S pages on "pp." (please note that the first and last numbers of pages should be specified): Vasil'ev V.V. Neizvestnyj Hume, Voprosy filosofii, 2014, No. 1, pp. 127-139.
5. When transliterating the article, italicize the publishing company: Vasil'ev V.V. Neizvestnyj Hume, Voprosy filosofii, 2014, No. 1, pp. 127-139.

Important:

- In article transliteration the uniform list under the heading REFERENCES is built alphabetically from A to Z, without division into Russian-speaking and other sources. "DOUBLE QUOTES" are used (INSTEAD OF "DOUBLE ANGLE QUATES", as in the text in Russian). Word automatically changes a type of quotes according to the language of the text.
- Names of magazines, books, theses, conferences in the transliteration are italicized.
- Sources in Latin remain the same, as in the Russian-language version of the article.
- In all the works names of all authors regardless of their quantity are defined.
